Save

Your flow will be autosaved by default. You can also use the Apply Changes button at the top of the screen if required. Until you switch it on at least once, your flow will be saved as a draft.

You won't be able to save your flow if your flow has no actions, or if an action or trigger is not configured completely.

Test and debug

Testing and debugging your flow ensures that it is error-free. This is an optional step to check if the flow is working correctly.

Click the Test & Debug icon. Learn how to test and debug

Switch on

To switch on your flow and let it work with actual data, click the slider at the top.
